

Acknowledgments

The editors gratefully acknowledge the Association of Communication Scholars & Professionals of Nigeria (ACSPN) for its vision and commitment to advancing communication scholarship and professional practice. We extend our appreciation to the leadership of the Association, particularly Professor Umaru Pate, Vice Chancellor, Federal University, Kashere, the President under whose tenure this book project was undertaken, for his financial and moral support toward the success of the 2023 Conference, and the sustenance of the ACSPN Vision and Mission. We also acknowledge the commitment and contributions of other leaders of the ACSPN, Professor Nosa Owens-Ibie, Professor Victor Ayedun-Aluma, Professor Ifenyiwa Nsude, and several others, to the actualisation of this book.

We remain grateful to the Nigerian Communication Commission (NCC) for providing fund for the publication of this book in furtherance of its mission of democratising the communication ecosystem in Nigeria. The editors, on behalf of the ACSPN, appreciate the contributions of Dr Omoniyi Ibietan in ensuring that this work gets to the public. We are also grateful to Professor Bala A. Musa of the Communication Studies Department and Honors Fellow, Azusa Pacific University, Azusa, who was participated in a special session during the 2023 ACSPN Conference and made a special presentation in honour of the pioneer President of the ACSPN, the late Professor Lai OSO.

We are grateful to the incumbent President of ACSPN, Professor Rotimi Olatunji, whose leadership and dedication ensured the successful publication of this volume. We also thank Professor Nosa Owens-Ibie for his thoughtful foreword, which enriches the series as a respected voice in the field. Our sincere gratitude goes to all contributing authors, reviewers, executives and members of the Association whose collective efforts and support made this book possible.

Joseph Wilson
Jude Melea Moses
Fredrick Wilson